WHY MO. APPLES SELL SO SLOW

BURLINGTON RAILWAY EXPERT
SAYS THEY ARE INFERIOR.

ANSWER TO MEN HERE SEEKING A MARKET

Maryville Commercial Club Is Told
Fruit Growers Must Spray Trees
and Improve Orchards.

Every farmer with apples to sell who can't sell them should read the letter from J. B. Lamson of Chicago, agriculturist of the Burlington railroad. He says that there is always a market for quality apples, but that Missouri apples are not taken by the commission men because the orchards have not been sprayed and the apples are not sound.

The letter is addressed to the Maryville Commercial club, which has been seeking a market for Nodaway county apples. Telegrams were sent to many places and individuals by the club, asking for information concerning demands for apples.

Mr. Lamson's reason for not wanting Missouri apples comes at a particularly opportune time to Maryville and Nodaway county, as T. J. Talbert, orchard expert of the University of Missouri college of agriculture will be here all during the farm institute next week. He will give many demonstrations of spraying and the proper care of orchards. He will also talk individually with as many farmers as possible.

Mr. Lamson's Letter.

The letter from Mr. Lamson to the Commercial club follows:

Mr. W. R. Jackson, Secretary Maryville Commercial Club, Maryville, Mo., Upon my return to the office this morning, I find your wire regarding the matter of finding a market for your apple crop.

Our office investigated this matter for you quite thoroughly, and no doubt you received their wires in regard to the situation. It seems that the opinion prevails here at least that apples from your district are not good enough in quality or uniform enough for the commission men here to bother with them. Our office found out that commission men have had some experience with Missouri apples from your district and they stated that in most cases the farmers did not spray their trees and the fruit was not good enough in quality to sell well on the market.

If the trees were sprayed and the fruit sound in every particular, these commission men would be glad to buy Missouri apples. This goes to prove again that quality products are never wanting for a market.

I am sorry our people were not able to assist you in disposing of the apple crop this year. Perhaps we can be of some assistance at another time. Will be glad to have you call on us at any time for whatever assistance we can give you.

Yours truly,

J. B. LAMSON,

Agriculturist for the C. B. & Q.

Two Tractors to Be Here.

The Commercial club received a letter this morning from the International Harvester company, saying that they had received the wire of the Maryville Commercial Club and were shipping a 8-16 Mogul Tractor to Maryville to be used in demonstrations all during the farm institute next week.

The letter states that no plows will be brought by the company, but that they will use any make of plow which is on the grounds and will make any other demonstrations of the use of the tractor on the farm which may be asked for if they are able to do so with the equipment provided upon the ground.

Wednesday, Oct. 27, will be known as Tractor day. A Bull tractor will be here then also. Those in charge say that the tractor is the most recent phase of farm development, and much interest has been aroused among the farmers in them. A large crowd is expected for Wednesday.

HYSLUP AGAIN MADE TRUSTEE

Constitution Altered at Trenton, Putting Three General Boards Into One—Liberty Next Year.

Charles Hyslop, clerk of the Baptist church here, was re-elected a trustee of William Jewell college at the annual association meeting, which closed yesterday in Trenton. He and Miss Helwig and the pastor, Rev. L. M. Hale, got back last night.

Mr. Hale reports a wonderful meeting. Seven hundred and fifty regular delegates were there and visitors were present, as many as the town could entertain seemingly. Motoring was good around the "Get Acquainted With Your Neighbor" town, and the house was packed at every service.

Liberty was definitely chosen as the place of meeting for next year. The association declined the offer of the B. Y. P. U. to meet at Arcadia every year.

Perhaps the most radical change ever made in the constitution of the Missouri State Baptist association was adopted at Trenton yesterday, when the three controlling boards of the general body were consolidated. The action was taken following a most impressive service of prayer.

Heretofore the board of missions, the board of education and the board of philanthropy have been three separate and distinct bodies. The efficiency committee suggested a change in this plan whereby the membership of the board of missions, formerly including fifteen, should be increased to thirty. However, the suggestion itself was amended and instead of continuing all three of the boards they were all thrown together in one body.

For the annual meeting of the Missouri Baptist general association next year Liberty seems to be in the lead. For years, the delegation points out, Liberty has been the orbit for the denomination, and over 50 per cent of the ministers in attendance are graduates of William Jewell. The college town has never had an association meeting and now they want it.

TICKET SALE STILL POOR

LYCEUM COMMITTEE WORRIED BY SLOW RESPONSE.

Plans for Greater Engagement Next
Year May Be Abandoned—Deficit
May Mean No Course.

The Maryville Lyceum committee was informed by the Jenkins Music company of Kansas City this morning that a Steinway grand piano had been shipped to Maryville for Miss Nielsen's use next Tuesday night.

Miss Nielsen is making only six engagements upon her present trip. She comes here from Kirksville, where she will give a concert Monday night. Quite a number of St. Joseph people have informed the committee that they were coming to hear Miss Nielsen.

The ticket sale continues to be slow and unsatisfactory and the committee is beginning to be worried. The price for Miss Nielsen alone is $600. It has been hoped that the obligation which the men have assumed in such a high priced number would be met readily by Maryville people, and that even a better number might be signed for next year, such as Madame Schumann-Heink.

It can easily be seen how many tickets it will take at $2 and $1 to raise the guarantees. If the members of the committee should have to pay a deficit from their own pockets, it would probably mean that we would have no course at all next winter.

DR. D. C. WILSON CRITICALLY ILL.

Family Is at Balboa, Cal.—Sick Man's Recovery Doubtful.

The condition of the sick man is very serious and his recovery is doubtful. He has been a sufferer for some time with a complication of stomach troubles. The family had expected to return to their home the last of the month on account of Dr. Wilson's health, but he became worse very rapidly and their return is indefinite.

AUTO OVER WITH 5

M. A. HAHN SUFFERS BROKEN
RIBS, C. ALEY WRENCHED BACK.

SKIDDED INTO A DITCH

Men Were Going to Work On Barn and Were Turning Out to Pass a Wagon.

M. A. Hahn, president of the board of aldermen, suffered a fracture of three ribs and Clum Aley's back was wrenched severely when Mr. Hahn's car was overturned a half mile north of the Bovard corner, northwest of Maryville, this morning.

The two men were going to work on a barn which Mr. Hahn is building on the Griffey place. As they turned to the side of the road about 7 o'clock this morning to pass a team, the automobile skidded in the soft earth and turned over.

Frank Barrock, James O'Neil and J. S. Williams were also in the car. They helped to right the machine and Mr. Hahn was able to drive the car back to town. He and Mr. Aley were treated by Dr. C. V. Martin and are resting comfortably this afternoon. The other men were not hurt.

WILL PAY FOR COTTON

BRITISH GOVERNMENT CONCEDES
POINT TO SHIPPERS.

Market Price at Shipment Date and Expenses to Owners of Contriband Cargo.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The British government will pay market price for all cotton which is seized by them, because it is not accompanied by sales contracts. This announcement was made today by the state department, following an exchange of notes by the two governments.

This is the first substantial concession which the cotton interests have received. They will get the market price on the date it was shipped plus all shipping expenses.

The English government is drawing its contraband regulations on cotton more strictly than ever, because it is believed that Germany is using great quantities of it in the making of ammunition, particularly gun-cotton.

The Rev. S. D. Harkness Formally
Placed in Kansas City Church.

In the installation ceremonies, the Rev. George P. Baity and the Rev. George E. Newell of Kansas City, and the Rev. W. R. Dobyns and the Rev. B. M. Claggett of St. Joseph had a part.

Englishwoman, Who Helped Soldiers
Escape, Is Not Saved by Plea of United States.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Oct. 22.—A sensation of horror has surged over even war-torn Europe at the German execution of Miss Edith Cavell, an English nurse, who was convicted of aiding soldiers to escape from Brussels.

Dispatches say that she died bravely at 2 o'clock this morning refusing to be blindfolded, and saying that she was not afraid to die. She said that she helped allied soldiers to escape whom she knew would otherwise be shot by the Germans.

Miss Cavell had nursed German soldiers as much as those of the allies. Every effort was exhausted by Brant Whitlock, American ambassador to Belgium, to prevent the execution.

FORCE OF A BAD EXAMPLE

More Than Fifty-Five High School Pupils Leave After Hearing About Normal "Stunt."

And now just see what a bad example will do. When the Normal student body walked out and, to the high school mind, "got away with it," more than fifty boys of the Maryville high school decided that students in secondary schools could play at the same game this afternoon.

Perhaps they are playing "hooky," or on a strike, or mayhap they will be able to produce good excuses tomorrow morning. The members of the school board spent most of the afternoon at the high school in an investigation.

MORE TROOPS TO BORDER

TWENTY-EIGHTH INFANTRY TO BE SCATTERED ON RIO GRANDE.

Precautionary Measure, Releasing Cavalry For Scout Duty—No Invasion Orders Hinder Soldiers.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The war department has ordered the Twenty-Eighth infantry, encamped at Galveston, to proceed at once to Harlingen, in the Brownsville section, to help combat Mexican raiders.

Secretary of War Garrison says that the measure is precautionary, rather than one needed under the present circumstances. The Twenty-Eighth will be distributed all along the border, releasing the cavalry for scout duty and for rounding up bandits.

The authorities are incensed at the continued raids, but can do no more than guard the border because the state department refuses to permit the troops following bandits to pursue them across the border.

The diplomatic side of the government holds that such an invasion would be an unpardonable breach of Mexican rights. As it is, meanwhile, a gang of bandits can strike and be back across the border almost before the alarm is given.

NORMAL STUDENTS TAKE A HOLIDAY

"WALK-OUT" AT FIRST CLASS, AND PICNIC FOLLOWS.

FACULTY IS INVITED TO COME TO DINNER

Leaders Say It's to Be Annual Stunt for Fall Term—Administration Silent.

"Clear out, you knockers who say that the Normal students have no school spirit."

That's what the students said this morning as they went out on a picnic lark instead of a class.

The faculty and administration part of the State Normal school will take no notice of the action, because it is done by irresponsible parties. It is understood, however, that it is considered a thoughtless prank.

But the students say that St. Patrick's day in engineering schools, "Sneak day" among the seniors at the University of Nebraska, and all other such days were merely outbursts of youth which must be overlooked. The faculty will learn better, say the student leaders.

To be very plain, the students announce that they expect to make this day an annual affair. All the terms except the fall term have some sort of a stunt day, and so one is to be made. It's name will develop sometime today probably in the pasture north of the crossing of the Wabash and Burlington, where the picnic is in progress.

Planned in Literary Societies.

It was all concocted in literary society meetings last night. When the students met at 8 o'clock this morning they lined up in front of a camera instead of a teacher. When the bell rang several yells were given and a song or two, then a march down the front walk was begun.

Here it was that President Richardson met the student body 208 strong, out of the enrollment of almost 300. He asked for deliberation and a reconsideration. But not for the students. They had made up their minds the night before. Several of the teachers who were in the crowd did not go farther, however.

So the march continued to the place of the picnic. Here an organization was formed and the students pledged themselves to stand by any or all of the leaders in case they were suspended or fined. The officers in the organization are: President, John Doe; secretary, Miss Sarah Doe.

After that an "eats" committee was appointed and sent to the city after a collection had been taken. And poor Mr. Reuillard. It isn't often he has to provide for 200 people on such short notice.

What They Had to Eat.

Here are some of the quantities delivered to the students: Bread, 70 loaves; doughnuts, 19 dozen; wieners, 20 pounds; apples, 3 bushels; cider, 20 gallons; cookies, 18 dozen; sweet pickles, 3 gallons, and the other good things in proportion.

One of the student leaders called up the secretary of the faculty about 11 o'clock this morning and the following conversation took place from the student end of the wire:

"Hello. Is this the secretary of the Normal school faculty? Well, this is a representative of the students. My name? John Doe. I have been delegated by the students to extend to the faculty through you a cordial invitation to take dinner with us in the pasture just north of the intersection of the Wabash and Burlington railroads. Do come. Goodbye."

Plans for the rest of the day are indefinite, but it is probable that the students will come up to the square in the late afternoon or evening and let us hear a few yells and some enthusiasm.

And some of the students do say that if things keep on the way they are going the Normal may get a football team and a double portion of school spirit by next year.

Announcement

We are authorized to announce Robert I. Young of Buchanan county, as a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fourth district subject to the primary election to be held August 8, 1916.

If all northwest Missouri can show so much interest in Alice Nielsen, the least Maryville can do properly is to get enthusiastic.

Objection is made by "purists in English" to the use of "audiences" for moving picture assemblies. As if every one of the shows did not have a mechanical piano.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt says that the failure of New Jersey was not a defeat; that equal suffrage cannot lose unless a state which has the new movement goes back to male electorate. In other words, one can't lose what one hasn't. What sage first remarked that you can't argue with a woman?

Although the man who handles the telegraph wire often pulls his hair, still there are elements of grim humor at times. One bulletin yesterday contained the following names all in the Balkans: Nish, Vranje, Istib, Cutchans, Uskub, Sultantepe, Shabats, Egri-palanka, Sarajevo and Czeronowitz.

A New York paper reports that the German fleet is drawn around Heligoland and are taunting the English fleet, asking them why they do not issue a challenge. We have been under the impression since the beginning of the war that England's commerce going on almost uninterrupted was the war's greatest challenge.

ELLISON FOR GOVERNOR

The following is from this week's North County Times of Grant City:

In a recent issue The Maryville Democrat-Forum suggests the name of Judge W. C. Ellison for the Democratic nomination for governor of Missouri.

During the many years he has been judge of the fourth judicial district Judge Ellison has won universal respect, and, as near as any man could give it, has given universal satisfaction. He is a big man and should he receive the nomination would carry the section of the state where he is best known by a majority that would be overwhelming.

DON'T BURN THE LEAVES.

"Let's make a playhouse out of leaves. Or let's have a big bonfire." In both the "kids" are having a great time just now. The first named is all right. The second is not only dangerous for the children's lives and for property, but it annually destroys hundreds of dollars worth of fertilizer.

Put the leaves in a corner of the garden and scatter them over the ground just before plowing next spring and you'll get them back in lettuce, radishes, potatoes, cucumbers and other welcome stuff in the spring time.

HOW TO GET FACTORIES.

St. Joseph is studying methods for increasing her industrial enterprises. The first requisite for a city that wants to grow is to acquire the desire for factories and the next is to ascertain by what means they may be secured. The first is the most important and doesn't mean a mere willingness to receive them. A good many cities are like a good many people. They are willing to have something worth while thrust upon them but they haven't the ambition and the ginger to go into the world and contest for the desirable

BAD COLD! HEADACHY AND NOSE STUFFED

"Pape's Cold Compound" Relieves Worst Cold or the Grippe in Few Hours—No Quinine Used.

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all gripe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

Many men are willing to have riches and really would like to make a lot of money who haven't the nerve to plant that they may reap or to cast bread upon the waters.

St. Joseph was a long time awakening to the fact that she might fight for the things desirable but of late years a new spirit has taken possession of St. Joseph and she wants some of the good plums that are falling and making little cities big. The next thing is to find where the best trees are and how to shake the fruit down.

Charles W. Lansing, an expert along these lines, tells the commerce club that getting factories is comparatively easy when you know how. The important thing, however, he says, is to get good factories and to get them in a way that they may do a successful business. Mr. Lansing further says:

"The place to hunt for factories is where the game is thick." It appears that there are fourteen large cities where 3,000,000 are employed at annual wages of $800,000,000. The greatest of these, of course, is New York where there are 32,000 industrial plants. Chicago has 10,000. Now, so changed have conditions become, there are factories in all these larger cities that would find it profitable to move away from such large communities. Some of them are being pinched for room, some of them fear labor difficulties, some of them could find costs lessened in smaller places."

These are facts reasonably well known to all who have given the subject any attention. There are factories to be had and there are factories of the right kind to be had that are adapted to the different locations and that can be made a success, but they are not as a rule hunting unknown towns when a great many enterprising towns are hunting them. Where there is the big enough want, there is a way to find something. Some fellows start out to look for a job and dodge around every block for fear of finding it. They are not likely to be troubled with one worth having. St. Joseph wants the factories because they are necessary to her commercial life and she will get them because she wants them and because she must have them.

INSTEAD OF BALING WIRE

M. U. Short Course Students Have Class in Repairing of Farm Machinery.

"Johnny, go find some baling wire. Let's see if I can fix this thing up so it will go."

That's the usual attitude toward repairs on farm machinery on the average farm. To get rid of this "baling wire" attitude and to instill the mechanic's attitude toward repairs is one of the objects of the courses in forging and farm carpentry given in the Two-Year Winter Course in Agriculture by the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri at Columbia. The first term of the course opens November 1.

"The 'baling wire' repair is all right for a quick repair in some cases," says I. S. Griffith, head of the manual arts department, "but we try to teach the men to have the same attitude toward repairs as the mechanic would have, and to have the mechanic's ability to handle tools."

This year the classes in forging will be in charge of a man who has for several years run a country blacksmith shop. He will teach the students the principles of blacksmithing so they can make the simple repairs on farm machinery themselves.

In the carpentry classes the proper use of tools is taught, how to make various articles, and how to frame and build a small building. The man who has taken this work does not need to hire a carpenter to come to the farm and build a chicken house, shed, or a small building. He knows how to do it himself, and can do as good a job as the carpenter.

The short course consists of two terms of seven weeks each. The first term is November 1 to December 17. Practical information in all branches of agriculture is given. By writing to the superintendent of Short Courses Columbia, Missouri, a bulletin may be had telling about all of the courses offered.

Molting Hens.

"The Missouri hen needs extra feed and care during molting," says H. I. Kempster, professor of poultry husbandry of the Missouri College of Agriculture. As she rarely lays at this time, the feeder is likely to feel that less grain is needed but on account of the greater exposure to cold more feed is necessary to supply the hen's fuel needs. Then, too, the work of producing a new coat of feathers is as great a drain on the bird's vitality as heavy egg production, perhaps greater. Feed liberally on a ration containing more grain than usual and be sure that plenty of sour milk is available as it contains the materials used in making feathers. Beef scrap and oil meal may also be fed if available and a lump of copperas, (iron sulphate), as large as a hickory nut, should be put into the drinking water each day. Keep the hens as comfortable as possible for a little extra care now may mean a good supply of eggs for sale at high prices later.

The Hidden Life.

We live our inmost lives alone. At best we are but little known. And even those who know us best Have probed to find within our breast That secret place, that hidden source of life's expression. But of course They probe in vain; the life lived there No mortal soul may with us share. Deep in the confines of the heart Where all life's mighty issues start, There is a hidden sphere unknown To others. There we live alone. Alone! Alone! We long in vain For sympathy to ease our pain, For some heart that can understand But no! How wisely God has planned To keep life's center and its throne Reserved to Him, and Him alone! We turn to God, and seeking find What friends, however good and kind, Gave not. He understands and feels, He every bleeding heart would heal. The realm we occupy alone He fills. Our lives to Him are known. —Grace H. Busby in Zion's Herald.

THE BIOGRAPHY OF A GERM

Federal Health Bureau Explains Bacteria So Lay-Mind Can Understand.

Great things have small beginnings. A spectacle maker, Jan Leippersheim by name, living in Holland, invented a crude magnifying glass in 1608. Anton von Leuwenhoek, born in Delft, this day 1632, improved this clumsy toy and evolved a compound microscope which has become the most valuable sanitary tool yet devised by man. That first microscope was as far removed from the high powered instrument of today as is the modern American from the original cave-man.

Yet by this faulty means, Leuwenhoek, naturalist, physician and botanist, discovered certain minute bodies which he called "little animals." He made drawings of these and today we know them for those useful friends and malignant enemies of man—bacteria.

We spend our days surrounded by another world, a living world of countless billions, invisible to the naked eye, silent, tireless, destroying the living, consuming the dead, useful in the sciences and arts, yet often followed by a train of sickness, suffering and death. A curious paradox this, yet bacteria are at once the greatest friends and the fiercest foes of every living thing. Not animals, as Leuwenhoek thought, but vegetables, bacteria consist of two classes, those which prey on living things and those which reduce to their original minerals, fluids and gases, every dead thing which they attack. They are of various shapes round like marbles or straight like little sticks. They grow in clusters, chains, and in pairs. They are ubiquitous. The dusty air, the earth and its waters, the interior of animals and plants all contain them.

They cause the fermentation of foods, they make cheese, they produce disease and some of them when killed and injected into an animal protect it against the very disease which they would have produced if living. Many of them live as harmless creatures in the body of an animal for years, only to kill their host when the opportunity presents. Their study has given birth to a science, bacteriology, one of the foundation stones of public health.

Their mere presence does not necessarily produce disease. Recalling the parable of the sower, some bacteria fall upon stony places, and some fall in good ground and bring forth the fruit of suffering, perhaps of death.

A normal, temperate life, free alike from the gluttony of idleness or overwork, the sound mind in the sound body, a cheerful, normal environment, these form the stony places in which bacteria take no root. The depraved appetites of mind and body, the dark

KEEP LIVER ACTIVE AND BOWELS CLEAN WITH "CASCARETS"

Best When Bilious, Sick, Headachy, Constipated, or for Bad Breath or Sour Stomach.

Be cheerful! Clean up inside tonight and feel fine. Take Cascarets to loosen your liver and clean the bowels and stop headaches, a bad cold, biliousness, offensive breath, coated tongue, sallowness, sour stomach and gases. Tonight take Cascarets and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Wake up feeling grand—everybody's doing it. Cascarets best laxative for children also.

and sordid atmosphere of penury, the nerve racking and strength undermining trades, these prepare the good ground.

The great weapon against bacteria is cleanliness. The mastery over premature death lies to a great measure in our own hands. Clean persons, clean cities, clean workshops and clean lives are the makers of public health. The United States Health Service and other sanitary bodies of this country are gradually bringing these facts home to the general public. In this way cleanliness is becoming more general, and the span of life in America is gradually being lengthened. All of which is largely due to the microscope.

EXPECTING 10 000 TEACHERS

Enrollment at Kansas City May Make Missouri First in Union in Attendance.

Ten thousand teachers will be enrolled for the Kansas City meeting of the Missouri State Teachers' Association, November 4-6, 1915 and Missouri will be the first state in the union in association enrollment, according to reports from the school men of the state to the Secretary of the Association.

At least sixty counties will dismiss their associations so that teachers may go to Kansas City, and three or four hundred towns will enroll practically as a unit. The enrollment from the Normal Schools, colleges and universities will be greater than ever. Every county in the state will be represented. President Hill has been fortunate in securing some of the leading educators of the country for the general program.

Among these are Dr. J. F. Hoste, Chicago Normal college, the most eminent authority on teaching of English in the grades in America; Dr. H. H. Goddard, Vineland, N. J., author and lecturer of education; Hon. S. D. Fess, Yellow Springs, Ohio, President Antioch college, author, congressman and member of President Wilson's Commission on Vocational Education; Dr. E. A. Steiner, Grinnell, Iowa, noted sociologist, lecturer and author; Dr. Jay W. Hudson, Columbia, special lecturer of American School Peace League; Professor Albert S. Cook, Baltimore county, Md., educator and the leading county superintendent of the United States; Mary Antin, New York, famous lecturer and author, one of America's most noted women. The departmental programs, as arranged by the department chairmen, are also excellent and contain the names of many of the state's leading educators.

FINGER TIPS AND EDISON TO HEAR

Wireless Helps Deaf Inventor to Preside Over Naval Board.

FOOLS DISTINGUISHED BODY

Assistant Keeps Him Informed of Everything Said and Done by Means of Telegraphing Finger Tips That Touched Edison's Knee Under Table—Inventor Himself Tells of Hoax.

West Orange, N. J.—Thomas A. Edison's friends who know of the inventor's deafness have been marveling at the success with which he presided at the recent meetings in Washington of the new naval consulting board. It was learned that Mr. Edison fooled every member of that distinguished body of men, including President Wilson and Secretary of the Navy Daniels, that he heard little that was said during the board's deliberations and that he was enabled to preside so well because his assistant, who was present, kept him informed of everything said and done by means of a telegraphing finger tip that touched Mr. Edison's knee under the table.

Mr. Edison himself told the story of the hoax to some of his friends, and his partner in it, Miller Reese Hutchison, his chief engineer and personal representative, corroborated it.

Three or four years ago Mr. Hutchison fell a victim to whooping cough. He lost his voice temporarily. Mr. Edison, who began his career as a telegraph operator, suggested to Mr. Hutchison that he learn the Morse code. Mr. Hutchison did this, and in that way they began a system of communication based upon it and operated by tapping off the dots and dashes with the fingers. As they have been inseparable companions they have used this means of talking with each other a great deal and have been able to exchange words even in shaking hands.

Mr. Edison has never allowed his deafness to bother him. In fact, he has considered it an asset in his work, as he has been able to move about in his busy factory without being distracted by its great noises.

But recently when the inventor went to Washington to preside over the destinies of the new board of which Secretary Daniels made him the head, he was embarrassed for the first time at his loss of hearing. But he took Mr. Hutchison with him and posted him at his right and close by his side when the board met. Mr. Hutchison tapped to Mr. Edison everything that was said, sometimes verbatim and sometimes boiling it down into fewer words. By means of this Mr. Edison directed the board's discussions and even found time to flash back to Mr. Hutchison comments upon what his assistant had already interpreted to him.

Mr. Hutchison was able to send Morse messages to Mr. Edison at the rate of thirty words a minute, and as the speeches were said to have been delivered in a more or less deliberate fashion he was able to keep up with almost every sentence of every address.

Mr. Edison and his assistant also worked the Morse code with their eyes. With them a quick wink means a dot and a long wink means a dash and they talk to each other in this way when they wish to convey a message of a private nature when they are surrounded by other persons and are too far apart for the finger tapping method.

TROUSERS FOR SUFFRAGETTE.

Mexican Girl in Soldier's Uniform Leads First Parade.

Brownsville, Tex.—Led by a young girl named Luisa Caballo, an unusual woman suffrage demonstration, the first ever held in northern Mexico, was carried out by a number of Mexican women at Reynosa, Mexico, seventy-five miles from here. Miss Caballo appeared garbed as a soldier and defied the authorities when ordered to resume women's apparel.

She was told that, while the law permitted a woman to wear a coat, she could not appear in soldier's trousers. A compromise finally was effected with the aid of a little drapery in the form of a sash.

Letter to Mr. Geo. McMurry, Maryville, Mo.

Dear Sir: The way to buy paint is to go by the name. There is a name never seen on sham paint, or weak paint or short-measure paint: Devoe. There are a hundred different names in paint. Some are sham; some weak; some short-measure; and some all three.

If there is another such paint as Devoe lead-and-zinc, we don't know it. There are a few fairly good paints; a few; only one Devoe. A gallon Devoe is worth a gallon-and-a-half of those few.

Mr. Aaron Higgins of Plainfield, N. J., always used 15 gallons of mixed paint for his house. Last spring he bought 15 gallons of Devoe and had 4 gallons left.

KEEP UP YOUR ROADS.

Rural Delivery May Be Discontinued Where Carrier Has Trouble.

The rural mail service was conducted at a loss to the government of $40,000,000 the past fiscal year, and unless indirect benefits are received, such as bringing about better kept roads along the routes, the postoffice department does not seem disposed to extend it. The rule seems to be to maintain the service only in those communities which encourage it by their interest.

Bad roads are the cause for discontinuance. Failure to keep the hedges trimmed, to keep the bridges in repair, to drag the roads and to provide proper drainage are some of the things that cause the roads to get into poor condition. Don't let your roads get bad.

SUSPENDS FAIR TO WED.

Young Western Editor Apologizes For Taking Week Off.

Wenatchee, Wash.—Ashley E. Holden, graduate of the Wenatchee high school, who is editing a newspaper at Orient, asked the indulgence of his subscribers for suspending the paper a week while he went away to be married. Holden said:

"We don't know whether it is customary for an editor to take a vacation or not. We do know that we want to get off for a week, and as this paper is yours and you are the boss we are going to ask your indulgence and only next week's issue. No, our grandmother isn't dead, nor is it a ball game, nor even the Spokane fair, nor the open bird season which is calling us. The fact of the matter is that we are going to obey the Biblical injunction that advises a man not to live alone."

MEMORY BACK, SPEECH GONE.

Man Tells Strange Story of Being Lost Since Boer War.

Seattle.—His mind a blank for the thirteen years that have elapsed since he was rendered unconscious beneath a horse's hoofs in a skirmish in the Boer war, Sergeant William Tait, who says he commanded a party of British scouts at Mafeking, has come to himself in the county hospital here.

Tait was found in the woods of the Duwamish river, near Seattle. He imagined that he was seeking lost troops. The bursting of a blood vessel in his brain has now restored his memory, but has deprived him of the power of speech.

He has no recollection of how he came to America.

NO ALIMONY PENDING SUIT.

Indiana Judge Makes New Ruling In Divorce Actions.

South Bend, Ind.—Women who start proceedings for separate maintenance in the St. Joseph county superior court will not receive temporary support and attorneys' fees by order of the court pending trial, according to a ruling made by George Ford, judge of the court. The decision is against all precedent in the state, but, according to Judge Ford, is in accordance with a recent statute.

Local attorneys say the ruling will work a hardship on many women who cannot prosecute their suits without an order of court compelling the husbands to support them meanwhile.

TRAMPS 1,750 MILES WITH BURROS AS PALS

Prospector Seeking to Start New Life Startles San Francisco.

San Francisco.—Harry H. Cloud, sixty years "young," with his camping outfit of two burros and a cart, has walked 1,750 miles across burning desert and rugged mountain to get a "start in life."

And Mirandy Cloud has established the long distance walker's record for babies of ten months. Mirandy is one of Cloud's burros.

Cloud, who abandoned his mining "prospector" thirty miles from Prescott, Ariz., spread his blankets in the shadow of the Tower of Jewels outside the exposition grounds.

The glitter and glare of the exposition have never had a more colorful contrast than this picture of sturdy, sun bronzed age in top boots and khaki. The "tenderfeet" of the city stood amazed.

Traffic piled up on Market street as the strange caravan from the desert plodded down the great business artery. Crowds followed. Men cheered. Babies cooed in glee.

"Sell me the baby burro?" said a Miss Louise Burton.

"Won't part 'er from 'er mother," replied Cloud.

"I'll buy them both," said Miss Burton's sister Mabel. "How much?"

"Ten thousand dollars," answered Harry.

"Oh," said the girls. Then they gasped again.

"Well, these 'ere burros are my only pals," said Cloud. "Would you value a friend at less? I'm startin' after a fortune. I'll need it when I get old. An' I've got to have friends to help get it. If I have the ten thousand I won't need burros for friends. That's proved philosophy. Getap there, Jinnie!"

OVERSIGHT SAVES HIS MONEY.

Grocer Forgets to Take Cash Home, and Thieves Are Foiled.

Marion, Ind.—When Jack Lines of Lines & Grosse, grocers, went home after closing the store he forgot to take with him the cash receipts for the day, about $400.

Just after he retired some one knocked and shouted that his barn was burning. While Lines was away thieves searched his house from top to bottom. They made away with all the change in Lines' clothing, and it is the belief of the police the barn was first set on fire by persons who knew Lines was in the habit of taking the money from the store to his home each Saturday night.

ATCHISON LIKED MR. COX

"Globe" Tells of His Reception and Compliments Singing and Lecture.

RECALLED FORMER APPEARANCES

The Atchison Globe has the following to say concerning the appearance of Rev. G. S. Cox, pastor of the First Methodist church:

The Methodist indoor chautauqua last night presented one of its finest programs, when Dr. Gilbert Cox of Maryville, Mo., the brilliant young preacher-orator-singer stepped upon the platform as the lecturer of the evening. Many in the audience remembered that a few years ago, when Professors J. H. and William Davies presented "The Rose Maiden" in musical festival, Gilbert Cox, baritone, sang the principal role. It was the same Gilbert Cox. Had there been the least doubt of this, it would have vanished when he graciously responded to the urgent request of his close friend, Dr. T. E. Chandler, and sang two solos. It was the same voice that charmed Atchison hearers at the festival in other years. "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose," and "God's in His Heaven, All's Well with the World," gave the voice an opportunity to display a richness and beauty that seems to have grown with the passing years.

Dr. Cox chose as his lecture subject, "Making a Masterpiece." He drifted back to college days, when his teacher of literature outlined the structure of which a masterpiece in literature is made. "To write a masterpiece it must be grammatically correct, be in good taste and have a literary style or finish. Those are external. Into it must be woven a strong personality, a beauty and a richness or depth. These are the internal." Such was the form given for the making of a literary masterpiece.

Dr. Cox drew a parallel between a literary masterpiece and making a masterpiece of life. "A life masterpiece must have education, so that correct views of life are taken. That does away with all the superstitions, the fears that rob life of its best."

Dr. Cox, gave many apt story illustrations of superstitions, that to educated minds seemed full of comedy, but to those not educated expressed only terror. "To pass muster in these days, you must not only mean to be good, but you must know how to go good," said Dr. Cox. And corresponding to the literary style of the masterpiece of literature, you must know many things, but equally as essential, you must know how to systematize them and put them into practice. Corresponding to the "beauty of literary style," would be "courtesy," in life's masterpiece. It pays, and it pays largely, and for "richness," in the literary masterpiece, remember that no life can have beauty in its masterpiece only when there is a pilot on board. Shipwrecked lives are everywhere, and they are shipwrecks, because there is no pilot.

The lecture was a masterpiece in itself, and the big audience which packed the church recognized it as such.

GIRLS! HAVE WAVY, THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Save Your Hair! Double Its Beauty in a Few Moments—Try This!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderline. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flail, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderline at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderline. If eventually—why not now?

The following is from the Hopkins Journal:
Rev. William F. Burris, D. D., the newly appointed district superintendent, will deliver his initial sermon at the First Methodist Episcopal church in Hopkins next Sunday morning. He will hold the quarterly conference on Monday evening. Undoubtedly he will be given a great hearing and a most cordial reception.

The pastor will deliver a message of special interest in the evening. The month of January will be devoted to the revival campaign with the famous Kentucky evangelist, the Rev. James B. Twenty Years Ago.

When one goes out on the roads now it is hard to realize that less than twenty years ago there wasn't an automobile in the country where now the roads are thronged with them, says an exchange. As you drive along and note the rural mail boxes on every highway and in front of every farm house, it is hard to realize that less than twenty years ago everybody had to go to the post office for your mail. When you step to the phone in your own home or office and talk easily with your friend fifty miles away or your neighbor across the street, with the business man in a neighboring town or the farmer in the farthest corner of the county, it is hard to realize that twenty years back there wasn't a telephone system in the county.—Hopkins Journal.

WHY MO. APPLES SELL SO SLOW

BURLINGTON RAILWAY EXPERT
SAYS THEY ARE INFERIOR.

ANSWER TO MEN HERE SEEKING A MARKET

Maryville Commercial Club is Told
Fruit Growers Must Spray Trees
and Improve Orchards.

Every farmer with apples to sell who can't sell them should read the letter from J. B. Lamson of Chicago, agriculturist of the Burlington railroad. He says that there is always a market for quality apples, but that Missouri apples are not taken by the commission men because the orchards have not been sprayed and the apples are not sound.

The letter is addressed to the Maryville Commercial club, which has been seeking a market for Nodaway county apples. Telegrams were sent to many places and individuals by the club, asking for information concerning demands for apples.

Mr. Lamson's reason for not wanting Missouri apples comes at a particularly opportune time to Maryville and Nodaway county, as T. J. Talbert, orchard expert of the University of Missouri college of agriculture will be here all during the farm institute next week. He will give many demonstrations of spraying and the proper care of orchards. He will also talk individually with as many farmers as possible.

Mr. Lamson's Letter.

The letter from Mr. Lamson to the Commercial club follows:

Mr. W. R. Jackson, Secretary Maryville Commercial Club, Maryville, Mo. Upon my return to the office this morning, I find your wire regarding the matter of finding a market for your apple crop.

Our office investigated this matter for you quite thoroughly, and no doubt you received their wires in regard to the situation. It seems that the opinion prevails here at least that apples from your district are not good enough in quality or uniform enough for the commission men here to bother with them. Our office found out that commission men have had some experience with Missouri apples from your district and they stated that in most cases the farmers did not spray their trees and the fruit was not good enough in quality to sell well on the market.

If the trees were sprayed and the fruit sound in every particular, these commission men would be glad to buy Missouri apples. This goes to prove again that quality products are never wanting for a market.

I am sorry our people were not able to assist you in disposing of the apple crop this year. Perhaps we can be of some assistance at another time. Will be glad to have you call on us at any time for whatever assistance we can give you.

Yours truly,

J. B. LAMSON,

Agriculturist for the C. B. & Q.

Two Tractors to Be Here.

The Commercial club received a letter this morning from the International Harvester company, saying that they had received the wire of the Maryville Commercial Club and were shipping a 8-16 Mogul Tractor to Maryville to be used in demonstrations all during the institute next week.

The letter states that no plows will be brought by the company, but that they will use any make of plow which is on the grounds and will make any other demonstrations of the use of the tractor on the farm which may be asked for if they are able to do so with the equipment provided upon the ground.

Wednesday, Oct. 27, will be known as Tractor day. A Bull tractor will be here then also. Those in charge say that this tractor is the most recent phase of farm development, and much interest has been aroused among the farmers in them. A large crowd is expected for Wednesday.

HYSLOP AGAIN MADE TRUSTEE

Constitution Altered at Trenton, Putting Three General Boards Into One—Liberty Next Year.

Charles Hyslop, clerk of the Baptist church here, was re-elected a trustee of William Jewell college at the annual association meeting, which closed yesterday in Trenton. He and Miss Helwig and the pastor, Rev. L. M. Hale, got back last night.

Mr. Hale reports a wonderful meeting. Seven hundred and fifty regular delegates were there and visitors were present, as many as the town could entertain seemingly. Motoring was good around the "Get Acquainted With Your Neighbor" town, and the house was packed at every service.

Liberty was definitely chosen as the place of meeting for next year. The association declined the offer of the B. Y. P. U. to meet at Arcadia every year.

Perhaps the most radical change ever made in the constitution of the Missouri State Baptist association was adopted at Trenton yesterday, when the three controlling boards of the general body were consolidated. The action was taken following a most impressive service of prayer.

Heretofore the board of missions, the board of education and the board of philanthropy have been three separate and distinct bodies. The efficiency committee suggested a change in this plan whereby the membership of the board of missions, formerly including fifteen, should be increased to thirty. However, the suggestion itself was amended and instead of continuing all three of the boards they were all thrown together in one body.

For the annual meeting of the Missouri Baptist general association next year Liberty seems to be in the lead. For years, the delegation points out, Liberty has been the orbit for the denomination, and over 50 per cent of the ministers in attendance are graduates of William Jewell. The college town has never had an association meeting and now they want it.

TICKET SALE STILL POOR

LYCEUM COMMITTEE WORRIED BY SLOW RESPONSE.

Plans for Greater Engagement Next Year May Be Abandoned—Deficit May Mean No Course.

The Maryville Lyceum committee was informed by the Jenkins Music company of Kansas City this morning that a Steinway grand piano had been shipped to Maryville for Miss Nielsen's use next Tuesday night.

Miss Nielsen is making only six engagements upon her present trip. She comes here from Kirksville, where she will give a concert Monday night. Quite a number of St. Joseph people have informed the committee that they were coming to hear Miss Nielsen.

The ticket sale continues to be slow and unsatisfactory and the committee is beginning to be worried. The price for Miss Nielsen alone is $500. It has been hoped that the obligation which the men have assumed in such a high priced number would be met readily by Maryville people, and that even a better number might be signed for next year, such as Madame Schumann-Heink.

It can easily be seen how many tickets it will take at $2 and $1 to raise the guarantees. If the members of the committee should have to pay a deficit from their own pockets, it would probably mean that we would have no course at all next winter.

DR. D. C. WILSON CRITICALLY ILL.

The condition of the sick man is very serious and his recovery is doubtful. He has been a sufferer for some time with a complication of stomach troubles. AUTO OVER WITH 5

M. A. HAHN SUFFERS BROKEN RIBS, C. ALEY WRENCHED BACK.

SKIDDED INTO A DITCH

Men Were Going to Work On Barn and Were Turning Out to Pass a Wagon.

M. A. Hahn, president of the board of aldermen, suffered a fracture of three ribs and Clum Aley's back was wrenched severely when Mr. Hahn's car was overturned a half mile north of the Bovard corner, northwest of Maryville, this morning.

The two men were going to work on a barn which Mr. Hahn is building on the Griffey place. As they turned to the side of the road about 7 o'clock this morning to pass a team, the automobile skidded in the soft earth and turned over.

Frank Barrock, James O'Neil and J. S. Williams were also in the car. They helped to right the machine and Mr. Hahn was able to drive the car back to town. He and Mr. Aley were treated by Dr. C. V. Martin and are resting comfortably this afternoon. The other men were not hurt.

WILL PAY FOR COTTON

BRITISH GOVERNMENT CONCEDES POINT TO SHIPPERS.

Market Price at Shipment Date and Expenses to Owners of Contraband Cargo.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The British government will pay market price for all cotton which is seized by them, because it is not accompanied by sales contracts. This announcement was made today by the state department, following an exchange of notes by the two governments.

This is the first substantial concession which the cotton interests have received. They will get the market price on the date it was shipped plus all shipping expenses.

The English government is drawing its contraband regulations on cotton more strictly than ever, because it is believed that Germany is using great quantities of it in the making of ammunition, particularly gun-cotton.

TO INSTALL PASTOR.

The Rev. S. D. Harkness Formally Placed in Kansas City Church.

The installation of the Rev. Samuel D. Harkness, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, as pastor of the Immanuel Presbyterian church of Kansas City was held last night.

The occasion was also a joint celebration, as it marks the ninth anniversary of the establishment of the church. Beginning in 1906 with a few score of members, the church now has several hundred, and a larger place of worship will have to be provided in the near future.

In the installation ceremonies, the Rev. George P. Baity and the Rev. George E. Newell of Kansas City, and the Rev. W. R. Dobyns and the Rev. B. M. Claggett of St. Joseph had a part.

On Western Tour.

C. D. Nicholas left yesterday on a trip of several weeks through the west. He will stop at El Paso, Texas, to visit friends, and also at various places in Arizona, and then go on to the coast. Mrs. Nicholas will spend the most of the time during his absence with relatives at Clearmont and Burlington Junction.

NURSE IS EXECUTED

SHOOTING OF WOMAN BY GERMAN SOLDIERS SHOCKS EUROPE.

MEETS DEATH BRAVELY

Englishwoman, Who Helped Soldiers Escape, Is Not Saved by Plea of United States.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Oct. 22.—A sensation of horror has surged over even war-torn Europe at the German execution of Miss Edith Cavell, an English nurse, who was convicted of aiding soldiers to escape from Brussels.

Dispatches say that she died bravely at 2 o'clock this morning refusing to be blindfolded, and saying that she was not afraid to die. She said that she helped allied soldiers to escape whom she knew would otherwise be shot by the Germans.

Miss Cavell had nursed German soldiers as much as those of the allies. Every effort was exhausted by Brant Whitlock, American ambassador to Belgium, to prevent the execution.

FORCE OF A BAD EXAMPLE

More Than Fifty-Five High School Pupils Leave After Hearing About Normal "Stunt."

And now just see what a bad example will do. When the Normal student body walked out and, to the high school mind, "got away with it," more than fifty boys of the Maryville high school decided that students in secondary schools could play at the same game this afternoon.

Perhaps they are playing "hokey," or on a strike, or maybe they will be able to produce good excuses tomorrow morning. The members of the school board spent most of the afternoon at the high school in an investigation.

MORE TROOPS TO BORDER

TWENTY-EIGHTH INFANTRY TO BE SCATTERED ON RIO GRANDE.

Precautionary Measure, Releasing Cavalry For Scout Duty—No Invasion Orders Hinder Soldiers.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Oct. 22.—The war department has ordered the Twenty-Eighth infantry, encamped at Galveston, to proceed at once to Harlingen, in the Brownsville section, to help combat Mexican raiders.

Secretary of War Garrison says that the measure is precautionary, rather than one needed under the present circumstances. The Twenty-Eighth will be distributed all along the border, releasing the cavalry for scout duty and for rounding up bandits.

The authorities are incensed at the continued raids, but can do no more than guard the border because the state department refuses to permit the troops following bandits to pursue them across the border.

The diplomatic side of the government holds that such an invasion would be an unpardonable breach of Mexican rights. As it is, meanwhile, a gang of bandits can strike and be back across the border almost before the alarm is given.

NORMAL STUDENTS TAKE A HOLIDAY

"WALK-OUT" AT FIRST CLASS, AND PICNIC FOLLOWS.

FACULTY IS INVITED TO COME TO DINNER

Leaders Say It's to Be Annual Stunt for Fall Term—Administration Silent.

"Clear out, you knockers who say that the Normal students have no school spirit."

That's what the students said this morning as they went out on a picnic lark instead of a class.

The faculty and administration part of the State Normal school will take no notice of the action, because it is done by irresponsible parties. It is understood, however, that it is considered a thoughtless prank.

But the students say that St. Patrick's day in engineering schools, "Seak day" among the seniors at the University of Nebraska, and all other such days were merely outbursts of youth which must be overlooked. The faculty will learn better, say the student leaders.

To be very plain, the students announce that they expect to make this day an annual affair. All the terms except the fall term have some sort of a stunt day, and so one is to be made. It's name will develop sometime today probably in the pasture north of the crossing of the Wabash and Burlington, where the picnic is in progress.

Planned in Literary Societies.

It was all concocted in literary society meetings last night. When the students met at 8 o'clock this morning they lined up in front of a camera instead of a teacher. When the bell rang several yells were given and a song or two, then a march down the front walk was begun.

Here it was that President Richardson met the student body 208 strong, out of the enrollment of almost 300. He asked for deliberation and a reconsideration. But not for the students. They had made up their minds the night before. Several of the teachers who were in the crowd did not go farther, however.

So the march continued to the place of the picnic. Here an organization was formed and the students pledged themselves to stand by any or all of the leaders in case they were suspended or fined. The officers in the organization are: President, John Doe; secretary, Miss Sarah Doe.

After that an "eats" committee was appointed and sent to the city after a collection had been taken. And poor Mr. Reuillard. It isn't often he has to provide for 200 people on such short notice.

What They Had to Eat.

Here are some of the quantities delivered to the students: Bread, 70 loaves; doughnuts, 19 dozen; wieners, 20 pounds; apples, 3 bushels; cider, 20 gallons; cookies, 18 dozen; sweet pickles, 3 gallons, and the other good things in proportion.

One of the student leaders called up the secretary of the faculty about 11 o'clock this morning and the following conversation took place from the student end of the wire:

"Hello. Is this the secretary of the Normal school faculty? Well, this is a representative of the students. My name? John Doe. I have been delegated by the students to extend to the faculty through you a cordial invitation to take dinner with us in the pasture just north of the intersection of the Wabash and Burlington railroads. Do come. Goodbye."

Plans for the rest of the day are indefinite, but it is probable that the students will come up to the square in the late afternoon or evening and let us hear a few yells and some enthusiasm.

And some of the students do say that if things keep on the way they are going the Normal may get a football team and a double portion of school spirit by next year.

Announcement.

We are authorized to announce Robert I. Young of Buchanan county, as a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fourth district subject to the primary election to be held August 8, 1916.

If all northwest Missouri can show so much interest in Alice Nielsen, the least Maryville can do properly is to get enthusiastic.

Objection is made by "purists in English" to the use of "audiences" for moving picture assemblies. As if every one of the shows did not have a mechanical piano.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt says that the failure of New Jersey was not a defeat; that equal suffrage cannot lose unless a state which has the new movement goes back to male electorate. In other words, one can't lose what one hasn't. What sage first remarked that you can't argue with a woman?

Although the man who handles the telegraph wire often pulls his hair, still there are elements of grim humor at times. One bulletin yesterday contained the following names all in the Balkans: Nish, Vranje, Isstib, Coghans, Uskub, Sultantepe, Shabats, Eghpalanka, Sarajevo and Czernowitz.

A New York paper reports that the German fleet is drawn around Heligoland and are taunting the English fleet, asking them why they do not issue a challenge. We have been under the impression since the beginning of the war that England's commerce going on almost uninterrupted was the war's greatest challenge.

ELLISON FOR GOVERNOR.

The following is from this week's Worth County Times of Grant City:

In a recent issue The Maryville Democrat-Forum suggests the name of Judge W. C. Ellison for the Democratic nomination for governor of Missouri.

During the many years he has been Judge of the fourth judicial district Judge Ellison has won universal respect, and, as near as any man could give it, has given universal satisfaction. He is a big man and should he receive the nomination would carry the section of the state where he is best known by a majority that would be overwhelming.

DON'T BURN THE LEAVES.

"Let's make a playhouse out of leaves. Or let's have a big bonfire." In both the "kids" are having a great time just now. The first named is all right. The second is not only dangerous for the children's lives and for property, but it annually destroys hundreds of dollars worth of fertilizer.

Put the leaves in a corner of the garden and scatter them over the ground just before plowing next spring and you'll get them back in lettuce, radishes, potatoes, cucumbers and other welcome stuff in the spring time.

HOW TO GET FACTORIES.

St. Joseph is studying methods for increasing her industrial enterprises. The first requisite for a city that wants to grow is to acquire the desire for factories and the next is to ascertain by what means they may be secured. The first is the most important and doesn't mean a mere willingness to receive them. A good many cities are like a good many people. They are willing to have something worth while thrust upon them but they haven't the ambition and the ginger to go into the world and contest for the desirable

"Pape's Cold Compound" Relieves Worst Cold or the Grippe in Few Hours—No Quinine Used.

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all gripe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

things. Many men are willing to have riches and really would like to make a lot of money who haven't the nerve to plant that they may reap or to cast bread upon the waters.

St. Joseph was a long time awakening to the fact that she might fight for the things desirable but of late years a new spirit has taken possession of St. Joseph and she wants some of the good plums that are falling and making little cities big. The next thing is to find where the best trees are and how to shake the fruit down. Charles W. Lansing, an expert along these lines, tells the commerce club that getting factories is comparatively easy when you know how. The important thing, however, he says, is to get good factories and to get them in a way that they may do a successful business. Mr. Lansing further says:

"The place to hunt for factories is where the game is thick." It appears that there are fourteen large cities where 3,000,000 are employed at annual wages of $800,000,000. The greatest of these, of course, is New York where there are 32,000 industrial plants. Chicago has 19,000. Now, so changed have conditions become, there are factories in all these larger cities that would find it profitable to move away from such large communities. Some of them are being pinched for room, some of them fear labor difficulties, some of them could find costs lessened in smaller places."

These are facts reasonably well known to all who have given the subject any attention. There are factories to be had and there are factories of the right kind to be had that are adapted to the different locations and that can be made a success, but they are not as a rule hunting unknown towns when a great many enterprising towns are hunting them. Where there is the big enough want, there is a way to find something. Some fellows start out to look for a job and dodge around every block for fear of finding it. They are not likely to be troubled with one worth having. St. Joseph wants the factories because they are necessary to her commercial life and she will get them because she wants them and because she must have them.

INSTEAD OF BALING WIRE

M. U. Short Course Students Have Class in Repairing of Farm Machinery.

"Johnny, go find some baling wire. Let's see if I can fix this thing up so it will go."

That's the usual attitude toward repairs on farm machinery on the average farm. To get rid of this "baling wire" attitude and to instill the mechanic's attitude toward repairs is one of the objects of the courses in forging and farm carpentry given in the Two-Year Winter Course in Agriculture at the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri at Columbia. The first term of the course opens November 1.

"The 'baling wire' repair is all right for a quick repair in some cases," says I. S. Griffith, head of the manual arts department, "but we try to teach the men to have the same attitude toward repairs as the mechanic would have, and to have the mechanic's ability to handle tools."

This year the classes in forging will be in charge of a man who has for several years run a country blacksmith shop. He will teach the students the principles of blacksmithing so they can make the simple repairs on farm machinery themselves.

In the carpentry classes the proper use of tools is taught, how to make various articles, and how to frame and build a small building. The man who has taken this work does not need to hire a carpenter to come to the farm and build a chicken house, shed, or a small building. He knows how to do it himself, and can do as good a job as the carpenter.

The short course consists of two terms of seven weeks each. The first term is November 1 to December 17. Practical information in all branches of agriculture is given. By writing to the superintendent of Short Courses Columbia, Missouri, a bulletin may be had telling about all of the courses offered.

Molting Hens.

"The Missouri hen needs extra feed and care during molting," says H. L. Kempster, professor of poultry husbandry of the Missouri College of Agriculture. As she rarely lays at this time, the feeder is likely to feel that less grain is needed but on account of the greater exposure to cold more feed is necessary to supply the hen's fuel needs. Then, too, the work of producing a new coat of feathers is as great a drain on the bird's vitality as heavy egg production, perhaps greater. Feed liberally on a ration containing more grain than usual and be sure that plenty of sour milk is available as it contains the materials used in making feathers. Beef scrap and oil meal may also be fed if available and a lump of copperas, (iron sulphate), as large as a hickory nut, should be put into the drinking water each day. Keep the hens as comfortable as possible for a little extra care now may mean a good supply of eggs for sale at high prices later.

The Hidden Life.

We live our inmost lives alone. At best we are but little known. And even those who know us best Have probed to find within our breast That secret place, that hidden source of life's expression. But of course They probe in vain; the life lived there No mortal soul may with us share. Deep in the confines of the heart Where all life's mighty issues start, There is a hidden sphere unknown To others. There we live alone. Alone! Alone! We long in vain For sympathy to ease our pain, For some heart that can understand But no! How wisely God has planned To keep life's center and its throne Reserved to Him, and Him alone! We turn to God, and seeking find What friends, however good and kind, Gave not. He understands and feels, He every bleeding heart would heal. The realm we occupy alone He fills. Our lives to Him are known. —Grace H. Busby in Zion's Herald.

THE BIOGRAPHY OF A GERM

Federal Health Bureau Explains Bacteria So Lay-Mind Can Understand.

Great things have small beginnings. A spectacle maker, Jan Leippersheim by name, living in Holland, invented a crude magnifying glass in 1608. Anton von Leuwenhoek, born in Delft, this day 1632, improved this clumsy toy and evolved a compound microscope which has become the most valuable sanitary tool yet devised by man. That first microscope was as far removed from the high powered instrument of today as is the modern American from the original caveman.

Yet by this faulty means, Leuwenhoek, naturalist, physician and botanist, discovered certain minute bodies which he called "little animals." He made drawings of these and today we know them for those useful friends and malignant enemies of man—bacteria.

We spend our days surrounded by another world, a living world of countless billions, invisible to the naked eye, silent, tireless, destroying the living, consuming the dead, useful in the sciences and arts, yet often followed by a train of sickness, suffering and death. A curious paradox this, yet bacteria are at once the greatest friends and the fiercest foes of every living thing. Not animals, as Leuwenhoek thought, but vegetables, bacteria consist of two classes, those which prey on living things and those which reduce to their original minerals, fluids and gases, every dead thing which they attack. They are of various shapes round like marbles or straight like little sticks. They grow in clusters, chains, and in pairs. They are ubiquitous. The dusty air, the earth and its waters, the interior of animals and plants all contain them.

They cause the fermentation of foods, they make cheese, they produce disease and some of them when killed and injected into an animal protect it against the very disease which they would have produced if living. Many of them live as harmless creatures in the body of an animal for years, only to kill their host when the opportunity presents. Their study has given birth to a science, bacteriology, one of the foundation stones of public health.

Their mere presence does not necessarily produce disease. Recalling the parable of the sower, some bacteria fall upon stony places, and some fall in good ground and bring forth the fruit of suffering, perhaps of death.

A normal, temperate life, free alike from the gluttony of idleness or overwork, the sound mind in the sound body, a cheerful, normal environment, these form the stony places in which bacteria take no root. The depraved appetites of mind and body, the dark and sordid atmosphere of penury, the nerve racking and strength undermining trades, these prepare the good ground. The great weapon against bacteria is cleanliness. The mastery over premature death lies to a great measure in our own hands. Clean persons, clean cities, clean workshops and clean lives are the makers of public health. The United States Health Service and other sanitary bodies of this country are gradually bringing these facts home to the general public. In this way cleanliness is becoming more general, and the span of life in America is gradually being lengthened. All of which is largely due to the microscope.

EXPECTING 10 000 TEACHERS

Enrollment at Kansas City May Make Missouri First in Union in Attendance.

Ten thousand teachers will be enrolled for the Kansas City meeting of the Missouri State Teachers' Association, November 4-6, 1915 and Missouri will be the first state in the union in association enrollment, according to reports from the school men of the state to the Secretary of the Association.

At least sixty counties will dismiss their associations so that teachers may go to Kansas City, and three or four hundred towns will enroll practically as a unit. The enrollment from the Normal Schools, colleges and universities will be greater than ever. Every county in the state will be represented. President Hill has been fortunate in securing some of the leading educators of the country for the general program.

Among these are Dr. J. F. Hoste, Chicago Normal college, the most eminent authority on teaching of English in the grades in America; Dr. H. H. Goddard, Vineland, N. J., author and lecturer of education; Hon. S. D. Fess, Yellow Springs, Ohio, President Antioch college, author, congressman and member of President Wilson's Commission on Vocational Education; Dr. E. A. Steiner, Grinnell, Iowa, noted sociologist, lecturer and author; Dr. Jay W. Hudson, Columbia, special lecturer of American School Peace League; Professor Albert S. Cook, Baltimore county, Md., educator and the leading county superintendent of the United States; Mary Antin, New York, famous lecturer and author, one of America's most noted women. The departmental programs, as arranged by the department chairmen, are also excellent and contain the names of many of the state's leading educators.

FINGER TIPS AID EDISON TO HEAR

Wireless Helps Deaf Inventor to Preside Over Naval Board.

FOOLS DISTINGUISHED BODY

Assistant Keeps Him Informed of Everything Said and Done by Means of Telegraphing Finger Tips That Touched Edison's Knee Under Table—Inventor Himself Tells of Hoax.

West Orange, N. J.—Thomas A. Edison's friends who know of the inventor's deafness have been marveling at the success with which he presided at the recent meetings in Washington of the new naval consulting board. It was learned that Mr. Edison fooled every member of that distinguished body of men, including President Wilson and Secretary of the Navy Daniels; that he heard little that was said during the board's deliberations and that he was enabled to preside so well because his assistant, who was present, kept him informed of everything said and done by means of a telegraphing finger tip that touched Mr. Edison's knee under the table.

Mr. Edison himself told the story of the hoax to some of his friends, and his

LATEST PHOTOGRAPH OF THOMAS A. EDISON partner in it. Miller Reese Hutchison, his chief engineer and personal representative, corroborated it.

Three or four years ago Mr. Hutchison fell a victim to whooping cough. He lost his voice temporarily. Mr. Edison, who began his career as a telegraph operator, suggested to Mr. Hutchison that he learn the Morse code. Mr. Hutchison did this, and in that way they began a system of communication based upon it and operated by tapping off the dots and dashes with the fingers. As they have been inseparable companions they have used this means of talking with each other a great deal and have been able to exchange words even in shaking hands.

Mr. Edison has never allowed his deafness to bother him. In fact, he has considered it an asset in his work, as he has been able to move about in his busy factory without being distracted by its great noises.

But recently when the inventor went to Washington to preside over the destinies of the new board of which Secretary Daniels made him the head, he was embarrassed for the first time in his life of hearing. But he took Mr. Hutchison with him and posted him at his right and close by his side when the board met. Mr. Hutchison tapped to Mr. Edison everything that was said, sometimes verbatim and sometimes boiling it down into fewer words. By means of this Mr. Edison directed the board's discussions and even found time to flash back to Mr. Hutchison comments upon what his assistant had already interpreted to him.

Mr. Hutchison was able to send Morse messages to Mr. Edison at the rate of thirty words a minute, and as the speeches were said to have been delivered in a more or less deliberate fashion he was able to keep up with almost every sentence of every address.

Mr. Edison and his assistant also worked the Morse code with their eyelids. With them a quick wink means a dot and a long wink means a dash, and they talk to each other in this way when they wish to convey a message of a private nature when they are surrounded by other persons and are too far apart for the finger tapping method.

TROUSERS FOR SUFFRAGETTE.

Mexican Girl in Soldier's Uniform Leads First Parade.

Brownsville, Tex.—Led by a young girl named Luisa Cabillo, an unusual woman suffrage demonstration, the first ever held in northern Mexico, was carried out by a number of Mexican women at Reynosa, Mexico, seventy-five miles from here. Miss Cabillo appeared garbed as a soldier and defied the authorities when ordered to resume women's apparel.

She was told that, while the law permitted a woman to wear a coat, she could not appear in soldier's trousers. A compromise finally was effected with the aid of a little drapery in the form of suffrage sashes.

Letter to Mr. Geo. McMurry, Maryville, Mo.

Dear Sir: The way to buy paint is to go by the name. There is a name never seen on sham paint, or weak paint or short-measure paint: Devoo.

There are a hundred different names in paint. Some are sham; some weak; some short-measure; and some all three.

If there is another such paint as Devoo lead-and-zinc, we don't know it. There are a few fairly good paints; a few; only one Devoo. A gallon Devoo is worth a gallon-and-a-half of those few.

Mr. Aaron Higgins of Plainfield, N. J., always used 15 gallons of mixed paint for his house. Last spring he bought 15 gallons of Devoo and had 4 gallons left.

Yours truly,

KEEP UP YOUR ROADS.

Rural Delivery May Be Discontinued Where Carrier Has Trouble.

The rural mail service was conducted at a loss to the government of $40,000,000 the past fiscal year, and unless indirect benefits are received, such as bringing about better kept roads along the routes, the postoffice department does not seem disposed to extend it. The rule seems to be to maintain the service only in those communities which encourage it by their interest.

Bad roads are the cause for discontinuance. Failure to keep the hedges trimmed, to keep the bridges in repair, to drag the roads and to provide proper drainage are some of the things that cause the roads to get into poor condition. Don't let your roads get bad.

SUSPENDS F.A. OR TO WED.

Young Western Editor Apologizes For Taking Week Off.

Wenatchee, Wash.—Ashley E. Holden, graduate of the Wenatchee high school, who is editing a newspaper at Orient, asked the indulgence of his subscribers for suspending the paper a week while he went away to be married. Holden said:

"We don't know whether it is customary for an editor to take a vacation or not. We do know that we want to get off for a week, and as this paper is yours and you are the boss we are going to ask your indulgence and omit next week's issue. No, our grandmother isn't dead, nor it isn't a bull game, nor even the Spokane fair, nor the open bird season which is calling us. The fact of the matter is that we are going to obey the Biblical injunction that advises a man not to live alone."

MEMORY BACK. SPEECH GONE.

Man Tells Strange Story of Being Lost Since Boer War.

Seattle.—His mind a blank for the thirteen years that have elapsed since he was rendered unconscious beneath a horse's hoofs in a skirmish in the Boer war, Sergeant William Tait, who says he commanded a party of British scouts at Mafeking, has come to himself in the county hospital here.

Tait was found in the woods of the Duwamish river, near Seattle. He imagined that he was seeking lost troops. The bursting of a blood vessel in his brain has now restored his memory, but has deprived him of the power of speech.

He has no recollection of how he came to America.

NO ALIMONY PENDING SUIT.

Indiana Judge Makes New Ruling In Divorce Actions.

South Bend, Ind.—Women who start proceedings for separate maintenance in the St. Joseph county superior court will not receive temporary support and attorneys' fees by order of the court pending trial, according to a ruling made by George Ford, judge of the court. The decision is against all precedent in the state, but, according to Judge Ford, is in accordance with a recent statute.

Local attorneys say the ruling will work a hardship on many women who cannot prosecute their suits without an order of court compelling the husbands to support them meanwhile.

TRAMPS 1,750 MILES WITH BURROS AS PALS

Prospector Seeking to Start New Life Startles San Francisco.

San Francisco.—Harry H. Cloud, sixty years "young," with his camping outfit of two burros and a cart, has walked 1,750 miles across burning desert and rugged mountain to get a "start in life."

And Miranda Cloud has established the long distance walker's record for babies in ten months. Miranda is one of Cloud's burros.

Cloud, who abandoned his mining "prospect" thirty miles from Prescott, Ariz., spread his blankets in the shadow of the Tower of Jewels outside the exposition grounds.

The glitter and glare of the exposition have never had a more colorful contrast than this picture of sturdy, sun bronzed age in top boots and khaki. The "tenderfeet" of the city stood amazed.

Traffic piled up on Market street as the strange caravan from the desert plodded down the great business artery. Crowds followed. Men cheered. Babies cooed in glee.

"Sell me the baby burro?" said a Miss Louise Burton.

"Won't part 'er from 'er mother," replied Cloud.

"I'll buy them both," said Miss Burton's sister Mabel. "How much?"

"Ten thousand dollars," answered Harry.

"Oh," said the girls. Then they gasped again.

"Well, these 'ere burros are my only pals," said Cloud. "Would you value a friend at less? I'm startin' after a fortune. I'll need it when I get old. An' I've got to have friends to help get it. If I have the ten thousand I won't need burros for friends. That's proved philosophy. Getap there, Jinnie!"

OVERSIGHT SAVES HIS MONEY.

Grocer Forgets to Take Cash Home, and Thieves Are Foiled.

Marion, Ind.—When Jack Lines of Lines & Grosse, grocers, went home after closing the store he forgot to take with him the cash receipts for the day, about $400.

Just after he retired some one knocked and shouted that his barn was burning. While Lines was away thieves searched his house from top to bottom. They made away with all the change in Lines' clothing, and it is the belief of the police the barn was first set on fire by persons who knew Lines was in the habit of taking the money from the store to his home each Saturday night.

ATCHISON LIKED MR. COX

"Globe" Tells of His Reception and Compliments Singing and Lecture.

RECALLED FORMER APPEARANCES

The Atchison Globe has the following to say concerning the appearance of Rev. G. S. Cox, pastor of the First Methodist church:

The Methodist indoor chautauqua last night presented one of its finest programs, when Dr. Gilbert Cox of Maryville, Mo., the brilliant young preacher-orator-singer stepped upon the platform as the lecturer of the evening. Many in the audience remembered that a few years ago, when Professors J. H. and William Davies presented "The Rose Maiden" in musical festival, Gilbert Cox, baritone, sang the principal role. It was the same Gilbert Cox. Had there been the least doubt of this, it would have vanished when he graciously responded to the urgent request of his close friend, Dr. T. E. Chandler, and sang two solos. It was the same voice that charmed Atchison hearers at the festival in other years. "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose," and "God's in His Heaven, All's Well with the World," gave the voice an opportunity to display a richness and beauty that seems to have grown with the passing years.

Dr. Cox chose as his lecture subject, "Making a Masterpiece." He drifted back to college days, when his teacher of literature outlined the structure of which a masterpiece in literature is made. "To write a masterpiece it must be grammatically correct, be in good taste and have a literary style or finish. Those are externals. Into it must be woven a strong personality, a beauty and a richness or depth. These are the internals." Such was the form given for the making of a literary masterpiece.

Dr. Cox drew a parallel between a literary masterpiece and making a masterpiece of life. "A life masterpiece must have education, so that correct views of life are taken. That does away with all the superstitions, the fears that rob life of its best."

Dr. Cox, gave many apt story illustrations of superstitions, that to educated minds seemed full of comedy, but to those not educated expressed only terror. "To pass muster in these days, you must not only mean to be good, but you must know how to go good," said Dr. Cox. And corresponding to the literary style of the masterpiece of literature, you must know many things, but equally as essential, you must know how to systematize them and put them into practice. Corresponding to the beauty of literary style, would be 'courtesy,' in life's masterpiece. It pays, and it pays largely, and for 'richness,' in the literary masterpiece, remember that no life can have beauty in its masterpiece only when there is a pilot on board. Shipwrecked lives are everywhere, and they are shipwrecks, because there is no pilot."

The lecture was a masterpiece in itself, and the big audience which packed the church recognized it as such.

GIRLS! HAVE WAVY, THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Save Your Hair! Double Its Beauty in a Few Moments—Try This!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

BURRIS TO SPEAK AT HOPKINS.

New District Superintendent to Open His Year's Work.

The following is from the Hopkins Journal:
Rev. William F. Burris, D. D., the newly appointed district superintendent, will deliver his initial sermon at the First Methodist Episcopal church in Hopkins next Sunday morning. He will hold the quarterly conference on Monday evening. Undoubtedly he will be given a great hearing and a most cordial reception.

The pastor will deliver a message of special interest in the evening. The month of January will be devoted to the revival campaign with the famous Kentucky evangelist, the Rev. James B. Kendall, assisting the pastor. We are now planning for the greatest campaign for souls that this church has ever known. Every member of the church will hasten to find his place for real service.

H. McNAMEE, Pastor.

Twenty Years Ago.

When one goes out on the roads now it is hard to realize that less than twenty years ago there wasn't an automobile in the country where now the roads are thronged with them, says an exchange. As you drive along and note the rural mail boxes on every highway and in front of every farm house, it is hard to realize that less than twenty years ago everybody had to go to the post office for your mail. When you step to the phone in your own home or office and talk easily with your friend fifty miles away or your neighbor across the street, with the business man in a neighboring town or the farmer in the farthest corner of the county, it is hard to realize that twenty years back there wasn't a telephone system in the county.—Hopkins Journal.
